Project Spotlight: 470 Atlantic Avenue

Project Background

C.J. Shaughnessy partnered with Wise Construction and a skilled team of Subcontractors to deliver the 470 Atlantic Avenue building's 175,000 SF repositioning. Our role focused on warehousing, transport, and heavy-lift logistics in a dense urban setting.

Our Approach

We provided turnkey storage, trucking, crane, and rigging support to keep an aggressive schedule on track. This included warehousing pre-purchased mechanical and electrical equipment to enable just-in-time delivery to site.

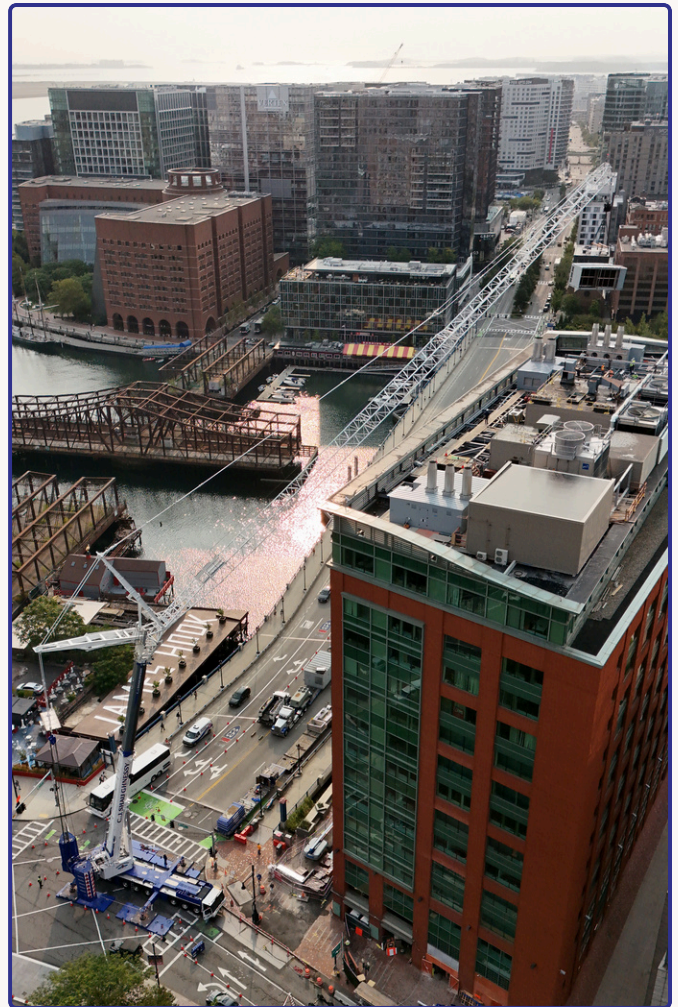

Coordination & Complexity

Working adjacent to the I-93 tunnel required meticulous planning and multi-agency coordination. We executed oversized deliveries and complex crane setups, collaborating closely with Wise, MassDOT, Boston Transportation, and Boston Police to maintain a safe environment and minimize disruptions to Boston's Seaport and Financial District.

Outcome

The team delivered a streamlined build sequence and maintained schedule certainty - without compromising safety - in a highly constrained environment.

 Project Video

"The CJS team was a valuable partner throughout the project. Working alongside Wise's project team, we completed more than 20 crane picks as part of a building conversion, including the installation of significant steel, mechanical and electrical equipment, as well as a new 2 kW generator. All equipment was delivered and staged at CJ's yard before being transported to the site and rigged in place by their team. Their support with project planning, permitting and execution was critical to the success of the project. Foreman Shaun's attention to detail and communication were excellent."

Senior Project Manager, Wise Construction
